

EXTRA!!! Roof Replacement Begins!

After months of Fund Raising; donations; and Grant Procurement – sufficient funds were identified in late 2010 to proceed with the bid process. Many remember that the roof has had repairs previously paid for by BHSP. Temporary measures were made in an effort to minimize damage to the overall structure. It was evident, that major structural repairs with roof replacement was necessary to dry in buildings.

The Building Committee aggressively pursued an updated architectural and engineer evaluation led by Ken Freidlein of Weinstein-Freidlein Architects. With the information provided the bid process began to take form in early 2011. Contractors were contacted in March; followed by on site visits by contractors who responded prior to bids submission. A Task force of volunteers, comprised of Jimmy Edwards, President; Ken Freidlein, Architect, Larry Boyd, BHSP Member & Retired Contractor with extensive experience in renovating historic properties, and Sandra Harrison, Building Committee Chairman, met with the contractors for bid evaluation. A recommendation for award was reviewed and approved by the Building Committee and the BHSP Board of Directors on May 23, 2011.

Final award of the bid was made on Friday, May 27, 2011 to STOCKS & TAYLOR CONSTRUCTION of Washington, N.C. While the process was time consuming – a well thought out approach was necessary.

Based upon funds currently available, the award covers repairs and replacement of roof in the Auditorium (Northeast Wing); the building connector; and the Office (Northwest Wing).

The plan is to proceed with the Cafeteria (South Wing) as soon as funds are available. The project is prioritized by severity of damage in the buildings. Many thanks for the support of the membership, supporters, and hard work of all committees.

This is a major step forward on the project!

Message from the President

When I became President of Bath High School Preservation, we already had a real core of members, and a great Board of Directors. My job was to continue our mission, and to increase our momentum toward restoring the building. This has been done, due to the hard work of our committee membership.

We now have a definite and exciting short range plan of how the building can be developed into areas serving the public good. We plan to have the Bath Library move into the cafeteria if the local library board and the BHM Board agree. We plan an exhibition space for local artifacts from the Pamlico area. We plan a Senior Citizen's center, where seniors can meet for exercise, hold meetings of their organizations, or to relax with other seniors with games and conversation. Our long range plan is to have the auditorium turned into a performing arts center, but that realization will be years down the road.

During my tenure as President, I pledge my energy toward achieving these short range goals. I urge everyone to join both the Bath High School Preservation, and the Bath Historic Foundation, and to become active in our pursuit of rehabilitating the school. We need everyone's energy and ideas.

Christmas Parade Alumni Spotlight

Honoree Mrs. Polly Cox

The 2010 BHSP Christmas float was especially upbeat. After a long six year struggle, BHSP took ownership of Bath High School in July. With this as a theme, the float was festooned with faux brick, windows and the new school sign. It was trimmed with flags, the Bath Pirate and school colors maroon and white. Many alumni and local citizens participated as float riders. Float chairperson Marti Buchanan chose BHS alumna Polly Smith Cox (Class of 1936) as float honoree to represent, for the first time, the community owned facility. Parade weather was cold and windy. Mrs. Polly was told we were in both the Washington and Bath parades, but that she didn't have to do both if it was too much for her. Of course she wanted to! She has so much enthusiasm! Mrs. Polly stated, "BHSP is close to my heart and my heart is close to my ears. And when I hear someone talk about BHSP, I listen!"

Mrs. Cox is dedicated to the cause of upholding the memory of Bath High School and seeing it preserved for the future. At age 90, she was born in 1920, the same year that land was first acquired and construction started on the school. She and her late husband, William E. "Mr. Bill" Cox, both attended. Their five children-Steele, Sandy, Sheila, Jim and Kerry-all went to BHS as did nine of their twelve grandchildren. Now four of their great-grandchildren are at Bath Elementary School with more to come in the fall.

In addition to being students, the Cox family has supported the school in many ways. Mr. Bill served on the Bath School Board. In the spring of 1966, Mrs. Polly returned to BHS as a teacher's aide/tutor and remained for 23 faithful years until her retirement in 1988. Her loyalty and devotion will always be remembered.

Mrs. Cox has purchased two windows: one in memory of her late husband, and another in memory of her brother John Smith and in memory/honor of her class of 1936. She also makes her famous sea foam candy and other goodies for BHSP fundraisers. Son Jim has been active with BHSP since its inception and just completed a term as Director. Son Kerry has been videographer for BHS events and the "oral history project". Other children and family are active supporters and can always be found at BHSP events.

Mrs. Polly was deeply honored to be asked to ride on the float. "I enjoyed myself tremendously!" she said in a recent interview. Truly one out of hundreds that were there from the beginning, Mrs. Polly has always treated everyone with quiet grace, love, and equality. Although there are a few BHS alumni older than she, when it comes to BHSP Mrs. Polly says, "I'm the oldest rat in the barn" By Kerry Cox

The Givers

There are "angles" and then there are angels...Bath High School Preservation definitely has their angels in Eric Slade alumnus 1975-1988 and Betty Slade, teacher Business Education Bath High School 1983-1989, Northside 1989-2005. The Third Annual Oyster Roast 50/50 Raffle was won by Eric Slade and returned to the preservation in 2010. The Fourth Annual Oyster Roast 50/50 Raffle was won by his mother Betty Slade and also returned to the preservation in 2011. William D. (Bill) Slade, alumnus 1948-1960, Eric Irving Slade 1977-1989 Northside graduate 1989-1990, four grandchildren attending Bath Elementary School now, Cody grade 8, Matthew grade 6, Savannah grade 5, and Kathleen grade 2 are a very loving, as well as, giving family. This community is truly blessed to know this family and to have them as neighbors supporting their community. Betty stated, "The Oyster Roast was great food and fellowship. A wonderful opportunity to support Bath High School Preservation!" The Preservation needs more friends and supporters like this family. Thank you for your caring and your loyalty.

Oyster Roast 2011

On February 26, BHSP hosted its four annual Community Oyster Roast with Extras through the hospitality of Jerol and Sonya Selby, at their barn. Some three hundred plus people shared the evening with BHSP and ate their fill of oysters, soup, beans, cheese, hot dogs, and Jack Wallace's special hot sauce. It was a tremendous evening of fun and a beneficial beginning to the year's fundraising efforts.

The oyster roast could not happen, and certainly would not be so successful, if it were not for the many volunteers who work so hard to make the event special. From the cooks who steamed the oysters to perfection, to the ladies who prepared and served the other foods, and all the people in between who did hostess duties, sold beverages, conducted the 50/50 raffle, set up music, took pictures, directed traffic, sold memorabilia, helped set up, helped clean up, sold tickets, helped with publicity; a tremendous THANK YOU for the hard work and the willing spirit.

It was truly a fun evening, and we hope that all of you will plan to join us for oysters and extras next year.

Generations to Come

Our children will inherit what we bequeath to them, and there is no greater gift to future generations than that we do the work God has asked us to do: love one another that the world might be made right. Be what God meant you to be and you will set the world on fire. Each generation goes further than the generation preceding it—You will have opportunities beyond anything we have ever known. You have to stand for what you believe in and sometimes you have to stand alone.

Tomorrow begins today. We're defined by what we pass on to the next generation. We're responsible for our future generations and we must pass on what matters to the ones who matter most. The more we give of ourselves the richer we are in soul. Thank you Starlon Credle for being so rich in soul. My gratitude is deep and abiding to you as well as the team (not enough space to list every-one)

Jim Cox, Marti Buchanan and Mike Godley rotated off BHSP board with over six years each of devoted commitment, volunteering endless hours and a vision that their alma mater would be saved. Driven by what they feel, will continue their efforts and are looking forward to the Historical Landmark opening its doors to the community once again. Build memories that last a lifetime and beyond. Keep smiling — It's good for you.

Marti Buchanan

Bath Fest Booth

Bath High School Preservation sponsored yet another successful bake sale in conjunction with Bath Fest on May 14th. Some of the best bakers to be found anywhere made some delicious pies, cakes, and cookies for the hungry shoppers. We even had doggie treats. Once again Pantego Blossoms (Kim and Ted VanEssendelft) provided us with many bunches of beautiful peonies that boosted our final tally. We were also able to jump start our car raffle and found many interested customers hoping to be holding the lucky ticket. Look for BHSP and our fabulous baked goods again next year at the annual Bath Fest!

Alumni Humor

The Great Chicken Caper circa 1966

I was eating supper the other night with old friends from Bath High School, and we began talking of different things that happened while we were in school. The following story was told for the truth; names have been left out to protect the guilty!

Now, Mr Doug Mercer was a favorite BHS teacher back in the day, and he had a car he was most pleased with. He kept her clean and polished at all times. He parked close to the old water fountain for those who recall where that was.

One weekend in the "herring run" season, some of the boys from BHS were trying their luck at dipping their nets. They were all set for a fresh herring supper, but alas, no herrings were caught. So they left the run and rode down around Broad Creek. Fortune was smiling on them as they spied a fence full of Bantam chickens, with no one standing guard. They "freed" some of the chickens and later on, plucked and feasted on them. A few of the Bantams were spared as the boy's had "freed" way too many, so one of the boys put these in his truck.

Next morning was a school day, and darn, he had forgotten and brought the chickens to school! What to do? What to do? The group of boys discussed the matter gravely as there would surely be trouble once the fowl were discovered. Then they had an idea! There, parked close to them, was Mr Mercer's fine automobile; just the vessel for some wayward chickens! They finagled their way into his trunk, and set the chickens inside.

As was his habit, Mr Mercer came out to his car at lunch period. The boys watched from the balcony above the water fountain as though they were looking at something in the sky. When Mr Mercer reached his car, he heard strange emanations coming from the trunk. Naturally he opened it, and the newly "free range chickens" ran helter-skelter into Bath Towne! Unfortunately they had left the car's trunk a bit less than "pristine".

Naturally, no one owned up to the deed, but you can look in the Pirate Chest yearbook of 1965, 1966, 1967 under the heading "usual suspects" and figure out who the culprits were. Hint: think letter B!

We would love to hear from you, Mr. Mercer, regarding "the great chicken caper!" By Ellen Edwards Heck, BHS Alumni

Pride in the Past Faith in the Future

A long time ago a little Indian Village named Panticough lay at peace along what is now our beautiful Pamlico River. Then came some Englishmen from ye olde Bath England and settled along Bath creek by what we now know as Bath, North Carolina. We know that 270 years ago this last March 8th, some of these gentlemen like John Lawson, Joel Martin, Nicholas Daw, Thomas Harding, and John Porter sat at a table probably at Duncan's Tavern on North Main Street in town, and decided to call their beautiful little wilderness, Bath. Maybe there was something about the water and the trees and the land, that reminded them of their home back in England.

Bath grew and went on to produce four colonial governors: Edward Hyde, Thomas Cary, George Burlington, and Samuel Ashe. One of the first things our proud ancestors knew was needed was a church. Saint Thomas still serves the people of Bath as it has for 241 years, built of balast stone from ships arriving from Bath, England. Her bell has tolled services for three years longer than the liberty bell in Philadelphia. A library, early meetings of the state assembly, the first courthouse, and a thriving shipping town soon followed. The first free school in the Colony of North Carolina was established at Bath for the purpose of teaching Indians and Negroes.

Our sister town of Aurora was named for the Tuscarora Indians that lived there. Other surrounding communities also derived their names from Indian tribes. In 1775, 250 years ago, the little town of Fork of the Tar River decided to honor our first president by naming the town, Washington (being known as the original Washington.) Washington was the first town to have a post office named Washington. With this history we have to, we must, carry into the future all our brains, hearts, wills, and faith.

300 years of not so proud exploiting of our beloved east has destroyed much of our beautiful coast all the way from Maine to Virginia Beach and from Key West to Myrtle Beach. On the waters of the Pamlico, Albemarle, and Neuse, remains the only land with really clean, clear water, fish, turtles, clams, crabs, and oysters. Only these rivers support lily pads, cyprus, wild flowers, and the pine woods. You and I must and will be the caretakers of the little of all God gave us. We must carefully, with good planning and withholding some of the greed that is in all of us, build our cities, towns, and vacationlands to serve all.

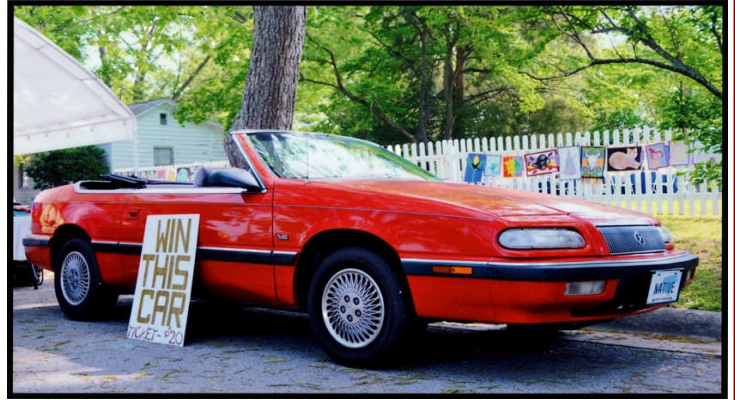

We must be conscientious citizens to save our farms and forests. We must develop job opportunities, non-polluting industries, and businesses that will keep our young people here, or that will get them to return after they go away to college and receive their professional training or learn their skills. To do all this, we must learn all there is to learn. We must learn to be free citizens. This means taking community responsibility, voting, and standing for what we believe without intimidation. Apathy our 20th century disease must be cured--no government, no doctor, nor the person sitting beside you can cure this disease alone. Only you and I working together can save our great country. We must grow and love and live here in our garden of Eden.

With faith like that of our fathers and mothers our future will be a brighter and happier one. I am proud of our past and I do have faith in our future. Thank You.
